

BOCCE BASH

#PLAYUNIFIED #LIVEUNIFIED

"The opportunity to connect with the athletes of Special Olympics New York was inspiring and fun for the Googlers that attended the bocce event. These athletes are fierce competitors and some of the games were pretty intense! I can honestly say that everyone appreciated the power of sports to break down barriers and came away with new perspectives on what it means to fight for true equality.

Any company looking to be more inclusive and align themselves with an organization that is making a difference, look no further than Special Olympics New York. We can't wait to step back on the court with our new friends!"

Kan Kotecha
VP Corporate Engineering, Google
Board Member, Special Olympics NY

The Unified Sports movement is inspiring millions worldwide to accept and include people with intellectual differences. As New York seeks to lead this revolution, we are actively recruiting Corporate Champions to help us grow, ensuring a Unified opportunity for every family and continuing to create inclusive school communities across New York.

Let's Play!

Ready to join the Inclusion Revolution?
Gather 10 co-workers for an afternoon with Special Olympics New York athletes and President & CEO Stacey Hengsterman. Our "Bocce Bash" includes a competitive Unified Bocce tournament, a light lunch, great swag and forever friendships. You provide the location and we'll take care of the rest.

Game On!

Let me win. But if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt.
— Special Olympics Athlete Oath

Stacey Hengsterman, President and CEO, Special Olympics New York
(518) 388-0790 * president@nyso.org * SpecialOlympicsNY.org